Harry Potter

Harry Potter and the Deathly Hallows: Part 1 made its debut on November 19. In the first three weeks of its release the movie made a total of $54.8 million and held the top spot on the foreign theatrical circuit.

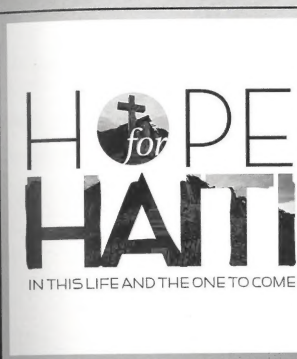

Making an Exit

Fed up with complaining passengers, JetBlue flight attendant Steven Slater made a dramatic exit in August by insulting passengers and leaving on the emergency slide. After spending some time in jail, he was released on bail.

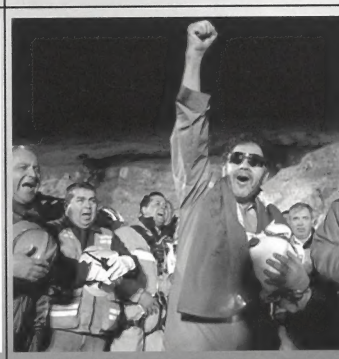

Hopeful for Haiti

In January of 2010 a massive earthquake devastated the Haitian capital of Port-au-Prince. More than 300,000 people were killed and one million were left homeless. Massive relief efforts were still underway one year later, and Haiti still has a long way to go.

Safe and Sound

In August, a copper and gold mine in Chile caved in, trapping 33 men more than 2,000 feet below the surface. As the world held its breath, rescuers dug and rigged up emergency-escape equipment. In October, after being trapped for 69 days, all of the men reached safety.

The Breaking Point

Pop singer and Disney Channel star Demi Lovato reached her breaking point in November when she was admitted to a rehab center for cutting. She had suffered with self-image problems for years and decided to get help while she was on tour with the Jonas Brothers.

Goal for All

South Africa became the first African nation to host a World Cup and made its mark with the ever-present buzz of plastic horns called vuvuzelas. In the championship game, Spain defeated the Netherlands, 1-0.

The Ultimate Mess

In April of 2010 the Deepwater Horizon oil rig exploded in the Gulf of Mexico, killing 11 and sending millions of gallons of crude oil into the sea. It took three months for oil giant BP to end the leak, but by that time untold damage was done to fish, birds and the entire Gulf coast.

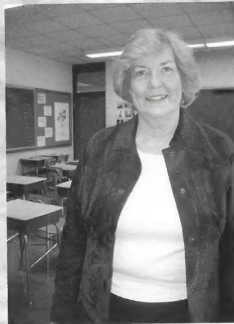

Back in Full Swing

After months of media scrutiny and ridicule for his numerous extra-marital affairs, Tiger Woods made a full return to the golf world. Still, Woods eventually slipped from the number 1 spot and has not won a major tournament since the scandal broke.

President's message

Mrs. Kathleen Donovan

Dear Members of the Class of 2011:

When you began your high school careers four years ago I watched as you wandered the halls trying to find classrooms and trying to figure out exactly who you were and where you'd fit into the mix at Pope John. Those first few days can be intimidating, but soon you were past them and then the weeks and months began to flow and everything fell into place.

Eventually, each of you discovered who you are, and now I see a group of intelligent, confident and talented young men and women who are prepared to move on to the next phases of their lives. Your time at Pope John has been spent absorbing lessons in the classrooms, but also equally important lessons on the playing fields, on the auditorium stage, in the pages of the school newspaper and in the vast array of interactions and connections one makes with peers and faculty members every day in high school.

At Pope John we dedicate ourselves to maintaining an environment that nurtures the academic, social and emotional development of our young people, and then we step back and watch as they leave us to do great things in their lives and in the world. Go forward, members of the Class of 2011, in pursuit of your dreams, and know that all of us at Pope John have always believed in you.

Sincerely,

Kathleen Donovan
President

Sister Peggy Reavey

Your decades of hard work, passion and love have made Pope John XXIII the school it is today. In recognition of your devotion, we would like to dedicate this yearbook to you.
